MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing company. Coal and wood, E.E. Mayne, 619 B'way. The Chautauqua circle will meet Monday evening in the library room, on the second

The funeral of James Johnson, who died Friday, will take place at 2 o'clock this after-moon from the residence, 1727 Seventh street. A marriage license was issued yesterday to A. P. Calland and Helen C. Crawford. He is a resident of Cumming county, Neb., and the is from San Francisco.

The J. L. Foreman stock has passed into the hands of W. T. Potter, of Milwaukee, Wis., who will close it out as close as possi-ple before moving it to another place.

The case against Ruby Baker, the Omaha female who raised Cain generally on Lower Broadway a few days ago, was yesterday dismissed, as it was thought that she had suffered sufficiently for her misconduct.

To-morrow evening General Manager Dodge, of the Retail Merchants' Protective association, will lecture on the merits of that organization at Maennerchor hall for the benefit of those who have not yet become members. All are invited to attend. The racing horse teams of the city are planning to go to Nebraska City in a few days for a series of races with western teams, and coupling and sprinting contests. It will doubtless be very interesting, and the boys will be benefitted by the practice.

The ten-months old boy of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ballou died Friday at their home at Manawa. The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock this morning from the Manawa hotel. The remains will be interred in Fairview. Mr. Ballou is one of the engineers on the Man-awa motor line.

John Peterson was full and ugly last even-ing. He began to amuse himself by chasing the pedestrians on South Main street with a razor. He was having any amount of fun when Officer Joslyn appeared and put a stop to it. He was hauled in and carefully stowed away for a long Sunday nap.

The gambling case against Dan Carrigg was again postponed yesterday, this time indefinitely. The city authorities seem to be trying to smooth over the results of that unfortunate raid several weeks ago. They started out at a very swift pace, but it looks very much as if they tired long before reach-ing the home stretch.

Dr. Newman will occupy the pulpit at the Broadway Methodist church this morning. At the evening service Mrs. Anna M. Tyng, of Minneapolis, will deliver a temperance address. She comes here under the direction of the order of Good Templars. A second service will be held by the same lady on Tuesday evening next.

A morning paper is very indignant over the undue advantage taken by Attorney Dailey to secure the dismissal of the gam-bling cases in the absence of City Attorney Holmes. The fact is that the matter was all adjusted before the time for the trial arrived, and the city attorney was fully advised as to what was to be done in the matter, and it was not necessary for him to be

ROLLED UNDER A MOTOR CAR

A Mute's Thrilling Experience and Narrow Escaps.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME OF PIETY.

Sentencing Prisoners-An Ambitious Dog-Old Fire Lads-Accidental Shooting-Minor Mention.

A Mute's Narrow Escape. "Look out, there!" yelled a motor man at twenty minutes past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon as the east-bound car neared the corner of Main and Broadway. The lively ding dong of the bell had not attracted any attention, but the words and the sharp tone in which they were uttered did, and a number of passers-by glanced hastily into the middle of the street to see the car strike a man, knock him down, and he disappeared under the heavy electric motor. The hearts of at least a hundred people rose to their throats as they realized what had happened. Meanwhile the motorman had not been idle. The current was shut off and a strong arm gave the brake lever several lightning-like turns, and the train came to a standstill. In less time than it takes to write it willing hands had released the unfortunate victim and borne him into Young's drug store, where Drs. Cleaver and Gordon attended to his injuries.

It was found that the individual who had so apparently a narrow escape was a seven-teen-year-old deaf mute named Oley Porter, a pupil at the deaf and dumb institution. At the time of the accident he was crossing Broadway and was looking up the street, so he knew nothing of the approach of the motor. He was rolled up like a ball and his neck and back were severly strained, but no bones were broken and no serious bruises were found. He was placed in a hack and conveyed to the institution.

The train was moving very slowly at the time of the actident or the affair would have resulted more seriously. The advantage of the guard attachment was made very apparent, this being in front of the wheels prevented the boy from being caught by them. His escape from a serious squeezing or bruising was fortunate even at the best, and the motor man deserves credit for his coolness and agility. It was as severe and practical a test as could be well made and indicates that serious accidents are not liable, even under more adverse circumstances. The lad will doubtless feel the effects for some days and the thrilling experience will never be forgotten by him.

Meting Out Justice. The contempt case against J. J. Frainey occupied the attention of the district court yesterday. Just before court adjourned sentence was imposed on Hicks Oden, Charles Kutz and Ed Middleton. The former was convicted Ed Middleton. The former was convicted of assault with intent to do great bodily injury, and got one hundrel days in the county jail. Kutz was given three years in the pen for assault with intent to commit rape, and Middleton was given eighteen months in the pen for forgery. His sentence was very light and was doubtless owing to the fact that a petition signed by all the members of the bar had been presented asking the clemency of the court. This disposes of all the criminals who were confined in jail at the beginning of the term awaiting trial.

Couldn't Fall Like a Cat.

Yesterday afternoon a sad accident happened to an unsophisticated dog which taking in the sights at the county court house. The door leading to the dome had been left open and his dogship continued his investigations toward the top of the structure. As he was crossing the skylight over the rotunda he met with an mishap. It so happened that several panes of glass had been broken by the electricians who have been wiring the building the past week and the curious canine animal approached one of the apertures and looked down. Whether he became dizzy, or whether the glass broke under his feet will probably never be known, for all that is known is that he was discovered shortly afterward on the concrete floor of the basement, fifty neet below. One leg was broken and he was injured internally, but a crowd of sympathetic boys picked him up and carried him away. The moral is plain enough, and all well behaved dogs will hereafter refrain from aspiring to lick the hand of the goddess of liberty who presides over Pottawattamie county's court house. county court house.
